

- ITIN & YOUR CPA

Think your CPA handles the whole ITIN process? Think again.

Tax pros are brilliant at tax — but ITIN applications are their own specialized world. Here's what your CPA or EA can and can't do.

• TAX VS ITIN

Great at tax — but ITIN is different.

CPAs and enrolled agents are experts in tax law and filings. ITIN applications, though, are a specialized field with their own rules and paperwork.

● THE SMART MOVE

Many tax pros bring in a specialist.

To keep applications accurate and fully compliant, many CPAs and EAs partner with an ITIN specialist like ITIN.com instead of navigating every step alone.

● WHY IT'S SPECIALIZED

ITIN filings follow strict IRS rules.

ITIN applications aren't a simple add-on. They involve a unique IRS form and careful handling from start to finish.

- ◆ Unique IRS Form W-7
- ◆ Specific document verification
- ◆ Strict submission protocols

- ADVICE VS FILING

Some steps need a Certified Acceptance Agent.

Your CPA or EA can advise on your tax situation. But the ITIN application itself often needs a Certified Acceptance Agent (CAA) — where the program applies.

● HOW WE HELP

We handle the ITIN heavy lifting.

ITIN.com works directly with your tax professional — preparing your Form W-7, verifying your documents, and submitting everything to the IRS, which issues the ITIN.

• BETTER TOGETHER

You get the best of both: your CPA's tax expertise and ITIN.com's application specialization, working together toward an accurate, compliant filing.
